NOTIFICATION

As per the recommendations of the Four-Members Committee headed by Prof. Utpal Bhattacharjee, Chairman, IQAC & NEP Task Force, an administrative approval is hereby accorded for strict compliance of the following guidelines for effective and error-free data bank implementation of NEP-2020:-

1. The details of UG & PG programmes shall be verified by the NEP Task Force in consultation with the respective Heads of Departments and subsequently submitted to the Joint Director, Computer Centre.
2. The course structure data shall be validated prior to final uploading. The NEP Task Force shall verify the data in consultation with the concerned Heads of Departments before final submission.
3. Departments must strictly adhere to the statutory provisions of RGU Ordinances and the guidelines issued by the NEP Task Force from time to time. It shall be mandatory for all departments to obtain prior approval for conducting BoS meeting for revision of syllabi. All BoS meeting notifications, whether internal or external, must be issued through the office of the Registrar after due approval of the Vice Chancellor, with a copy marked to the IQAC/NEP Task Force for compliance. Any syllabus revision shall be routed through the NEP Task Force, and a certification confirming compliance with the guidelines must be enclosed prior to submission to the Academic Council.
4. To maintain academic integrity, revision of course content/syllabi shall not be permitted in the mid of session/programme. Only up to 10% modification of course content may be allowed to incorporate, excluding the introduction of new papers, change of paper titles, transfer of papers between semesters or changes in credits.
5. Attempt to introduce new programme names emerging out of specializations during the tenure of an ongoing programme, creates difficulties in maintaining data on the SAMARTH/NAD Portal. Once a student is admitted to a particular programme, he/she shall continue in the same programme until completion. No shifting of students from one programme to another, including on the basis of specialization, shall be permitted, in order to avoid any difficulty in maintaining online records.

6. PG programme course structure implementation on the SAMARTH Portal shall be carried out in four phases, subject to the readiness of the concerned departments.
7. To avoid confusion and discrepancies of multiple versions of syllabi in the public domain, a single common repository on the RGU website shall be maintained for syllabus access by all stakeholders, including the Academic Branch, Examination Branch, Departments and Colleges. A strict procedure shall be followed for uploading syllabi on the portal, and no parallel or informal circulation of syllabi shall be permitted.

This is issued with approval of the Vice-Chancellor.
